$1000 Worth at Gold

A. H. Thurman, of Willis Creek Coal Co., Buffalo, O., writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder troubles for years, passing gravel or stones, with excruciating pain. Other medicines only gave relief. After using Foley's Kidney Cure the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust, like fine stones, etc., and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. Foley's Kidney Cure has done me $1000 worth of good." Haydon & Robertson.

Odds and Ends of Gossip.

The Flight of Flowers.

The flowers are gone with Autumn's call
And lonely the vine yet stays;
In summer green high on cliff and knoll
To grace bleak wintry days.

Where are the wild ones in the hills?
They sleep 'neath the dead and drifting leaves,
They wreck not of the sweeping blast that chills

But dream of the tropics amid the seas.

So may we in the Autumn of our years' old age,
It is ours with the fruit of earnest lives,
Like the flowers be called to sleep by heaven's sweetest lays,
To wake again within the gates of Paradise.

—George Getsendanner in Elizabethtown Leader

THE LEGISLATURE.—The races for the nomination for the various county offices are being made up by the Democrats and some of them promise to be exciting as several aspirants are getting ready for the start. Owing to the fact a United States Senator is to be chosen by the next Kentucky Legislature there is considerable interest expressed in the probable representative from this county. It is the quiet up that Hon. T. W. Simms, Jr., will be urged to make the race although it is doubtful if Mr. Simms could be prevailed upon. Mr. W. D. Claybrooke is also prominently mentioned as a candidate for the place. The word has gone out from the managers of both political parties that every effort must be used to get good material for representatives in each and every county.

SALES—This is moving time for the farmer and the time of public sales and quite the usual number of sales are happening about the county just now and a good many changes of farms and and their ownerships are to be made at the close of the year. Sales of Washington county farms by the way have been quite numerous of late and prices are good. Washington county farms considering the quality of land and the improvements have always been too cheap and the buyers which these prosperous times have created are beginning to realize that fact and good farms should command higher prices

DOES IT PAY TO BUY CHEAP?

A cheap remedy for coughs and colds is all right, but you want something to relieve and cure the more severe and dangerous results of throat and lung troubles. What shall you do? Go to a warmer and more regular climate? Yes, if possible; if not possible for you, then in either case take the ONLY remedy that has been introduced in all civilized countries with success in severe throat and lung troubles, "Boschee's German Syrup." It not only heals and stimulates the tissues to destroy the germ disease but allays inflammation, causes easy expectoration, gives a good night's rest, and cures the patient. Try one bottle. Recommended many years by all druggists in the world. For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

A neglected cold is an all-embracing cause of disease. It clogs the lungs with mucous. It strains and breaks down the lung tissues. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is an unfailing cure for coughs and colds. It rebuilds the tissues and gives strength to the lungs by supplying the blood with fat-forming oxygen. Good druggists sell it.

Paid Dear For His Leg.

B. D. Blanton, of Thackerville, Tex., in two years paid over $300.00 to doctors to cure a Running Sore on his leg. Then they wanted to cut it off, but he cured it with one box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Guaranteed cure for Piles. 25 cents a box. Sold by Haydon & Robertson druggists.

A cold, cough or la grippe can be "nipped in the bud" by a dose or two of Foley's Honey and Tar. Beware of substitutes. There is nothing so good. Haydon & Robertson.

Marion Notes.

From the Enterprise.

W. M. Stallings, assisted by D. P. Montgomery, of Logan Street Baptist Church, Louisville, Ky., closed a ten days' revival service at Union Chapel last Saturday.

The net proceeds of the Bazaar were $1,157.70, quite a handsome sum. Those persons who took such an active interest in the affair are worthy of the highest praise.

The Bradfordsville boom is on again in the matter of elopements. Miss Janie Reynerson made the last Thursday night, with Mr. Arthur Smith. Miss Janie is the daughter of C. C. Reynerson, one of our staunchest and best citizens. Mr. Smith is unknown to us but is said to possess rare accomplishments.

Henry Campbell, a resident of Jones' Fork, was found dead one morning last week in a small pool of water. He left the house of John Gray after dark to go to his home, a short distance away, and it is supposed that he intended to take a drink and lost his balance and fell into the hole of water, as his hat and lantern were on the bank near by.

The corn shows of the Marion and Farmers' National Banks closed Monday. The Marion had 17 exhibits and the $5 gold piece was awarded to Harrison W. Brown, of Penick. The judges were Fons Kelly, W. B. Beavin and John F. Peterson. The Farmers' Bank had thirty seven entries, one class consisting of white corn, the second class of mixed corn. For the best six ears of white corn, the $3 prize was awarded to W. P. Coppage, for the best six ears of mixed corn, the $2 prize was awarded to W. F. Cook, of Raywick. The judges were R. Y. McElroy, Gaither Hays and George W. Spalding. These corn shows are worthy enterprises as they encourage a spirit of friendly rivalry among the farmers. Messrs. Knott and Bottom are entitled to a vote of thanks.

QUESTION ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flowel still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for Indigestion or Biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of Appendicitis Nervous Prostration or Heart Failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and other aches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to make you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

No one can reasonably hope for good health unless his bowels move once each day. When this is not attended to, disorders of the stomach arise, biliousness, headache, dyspepsia and soon follow. If you wish to avoid these ailments keep your bowels regular by taking Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets when required. They are so easy to take and mild and gentle in effect. For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

If you feel Dull, Languid, Broken-down Debilitated, have Weak Stomach or Indigestion, use Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine.

Brave Men Fall

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. J. W. Gardner, of Idaville, Ind., says: Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he don't care whether he lives or dies. It gave me new strength and good appetite. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50c. at Haydon & Robertson's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

The Chinese Minister

Mr. Wu, the Chinese Minister, is the most interesting figure in the diplomatic corps at Washington. The events of the past six months have made him the most conspicuous foreigner in the United States; and in the midst of overwhelming difficulties he has shown the most delicate tact and courtesy, and retained the good will of all Americans, in official and private life. Minister Wu believes in western civilization. He contributes articles to the American magazines; he is the first Chinese Minister to address an American audience, and the University of Pennsylvania has made him a Doctor of laws; he rides a bicycle about the streets of Washington, and has an automobile for Madam Wu. He is an indefatigable worker. Although he speaks and writes English fluently, he continues his study of the language, and he knows French. Minister Wu is now about fifty years old; in his small mustashe there is a tinge of gray. But the impression he gives is of a man of great force and vigor; and his keen brown eyes are alive with intelligence. He was born of a family in good circumstances, but his comfortable fortune is mainly of his own making.—The World's Work for December.

COUGHS KILL

We know of nothing better than coughing to tear the lining of your throat and lungs. It is better than wet feet to cause bronchitis and pneumonia. Only keep it up and you will succeed in reducing your weight, losing your appetite, bringing on a slow fever, and making everything exactly right for the germs of consumption. Better kill your cough before it kills you.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

kills coughs of every kind. A 25 cent bottle is just right for an ordinary cough; for the harder coughs of bronchitis you will need a 50 cent bottle; and for the coughs of consumption the one dollar size is most economical.

"My cough reduced me to a mere skeleton. I tried many remedies, but they all failed. After using Cherry Pectoral, I considered myself in the highway, and three bottles restored me to health. I believe I owe my life to it."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Articles Highly Prized.

One of the most remarkable, if not the most remarkable, stoves or grates in the country is in possession of Mrs. E. M. Farnsworth, at her home in this city. The grate referred to is an old fashioned Dodgers patent, and was bought by Mr. H. H. Farnsworth, husband of the lady mentioned above, while he was in the stove business here over forty-five years ago, and put it in use family room, where it has been constantly used ever since, whenever a fire was needed. One of the most remarkable features of this wonderful grate is that except a few trivial repairs, it is as good as new. Nearly sixteen years ago one of the bars to the grate got broken. Mr. Farnsworth thought for temporary purposes a wire would hold the bar in place. Strange to say, that wire is on the grate yet, and looks good for much more service. Another heirloom prized highly by Mrs. Farnsworth is an old-fashioned cut-glass decanter brought from Scotland by the grand-father of Mr. Farnsworth over a century and a half ago.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

For Pneumonia

Dr. C. J. Bishop, Agnew, Mich., says: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case." Haydon & Robertson.

An Empty Menace.

When a man carries a pistol constantly, slipping it into his pocket every morning and taking it out at night, feeling its constant pressure against his—these things tend to familiarize his mind with the idea of killing and lowers his conception of the sacredness of human life. What does a man carry a pistol for? To shoot some man with. The miserable thing is made expressly to kill human beings with. It has no other earthly purpose. What a hardening effect it must have, then, upon the conscience and heart of a man who carries it constantly in his pocket and lives in daily contact with it, and with the idea it constantly suggests to his mind.—Greenville News.

Dr. M. A. Simmons Liver Medicine has since 1840 steadily risen in public favor, and the demand for it far exceeds that of any other Liver Medicine.

High Price of Pork.

The recent advance in the price of pork is said to have been due to the purchase of 75,000 barrels by Sir Thomas Lipton, of yacht racing fame. He however, disclaims any intention of cornering the market but he was bought by Mr. H. H. Farnsworth, husband of the lady mentioned above, while he was in the stove business here over forty-five years ago, and put it in use family room, where it has been constantly used ever since, whenever a fire was needed. One of the most remarkable features of this wonderful grate is that except a few trivial repairs, it is as good as new. Nearly sixteen years ago one of the bars to the grate got broken. Such wonderful cures have for 25 years proved its power to cure all Throat, Chest and Lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed. A woman in Louisville dropped her pocket-book containing $155 in a gutter recently, and it was washed into a sewer. Col. Reed, Superintendent of the Street Cleaning Department, was called upon and he sent two men into the catch basin, who after an hour's search found the purse, and returned it to the owner. She paid the men twenty-five cents each for their services. St. Peter will have to use a magnifying glass to see here soul if ever it presents itself for admission at the pearly gates.—Harrodsburg Sayings.

Hot Water Fire Proof.

Mr. R. Gray, who lives near Ameisin, Duchess county, N. Y., says: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This should be bourne in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as these symptoms appear. For sale by Hayden & Robertson.

Hoarseness leads on to serious irritation of the throat, and may end in a racking, rasping cough. Dr. Bull's Tar-Honey will quickly clear the throat and leave the voice clear and smooth. It is an infallable remedy for coughs and colds and all disorders of the throat and lungs.

"Then, in the following February, fell the awful blow which wrecked her hopes and nearly took her life. The north was exulting over Grant's great victory at Fort Donelson. Bonfires blazed and bells rang out the news of the people. Newsboys scampered everywhere and eager men devoured the latest word of news that could be read or heard. Correspondents at the front knew their harvest time and gathered every scrap of information. One of those scraps related to the finding of a young Confederate's body still in the attitude of prayer. After receiving his death wound he had, according to the correspondent, crawled to a bush, seized it with a death grip and bent himself up on his knees. He wore the uniform of a Missouri regiment. In his coat pocket were found three letters which the enterprising correspondent had copied. Flora Eldredge recognized them as the letters she had written to Elinesteeh along her journey from Missouri. As I have said, the shock nearly killed her. To speak more of her great grief would be only to inflict pain upon myself without adding to your interest in the story; for as there now have the coroner inquest from their right hand. The riveters at the Pressed Steel Car shop work one inside of the car and one outside. The man inside shoves the rivets through, and the man outside swings the hammer. They are paid by "the piece," and they work fast. Often the rivet won't fit, and if the man inside of the car happens to be new at the work he sticks his finger through the hole to learn what is wrong. The man outside promptly smashes the finger with his sledge. He doesn't do it purposely, but he works so rapidly that he can't tell a blackened finger from a rivet. He never knows his error until he sees the blood spurting from the stumps of the fingers. None of the riveters has more than one finger in that way."—Pittsburg News.

Sulphur Disinfection.

To disinfect a room with sulphur after washing all the surfaces in the room, the floors, walls and ceilings, bring in a washtub containing a few inches of water and several bricks. Put the sulphur in an iron kettle and place it on the bricks. Pour one pint of alcohol over the sulphur and set it on fire. Every crevice about the windows and doors should be stuffed with rags, the room tightly closed and left for a day and night. About five ounces of sulphur should be used for every thousand cubic feet. After the 24 hours have passed, air the room by opening doors and windows for a few hours.

Wanted a Big Collar.

It was told of Daniel Webster that when he asked at a Boston haberdasher's one day for a collar or "dickey" the clerk took a critical look at his customer's neck and then said: "We haven't got your size. You'll have to go to the next store around the corner for it." That was a harness maker's who made a specialty of horse collars.

One one of the most pleasant sidestreets of Cleveland live two dogs—a large, dignified hound and a saucy small fox terrier. Another terrier came and trelled defiance at the hound's cottage, and when the dog noticed he spent the scene it was to

DR. PIERCE'S Golden Medical Discovery

"I had suffered from indigestion, and only those who have suffered from it know what it really is," writes Mrs. M. J. Fagan, of 1613 East Genesee Street, Syracuse, N. Y. "I had severe attacks of headache and dizziness with cold hands and feet; everything I ate distressed me, bowels were constipated, and I was growing very thin and nervous. I cannot half express the bad feelings I had when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took nine bottles of the 'Discovery' and several bottles of the 'Pellets.' I commenced feeling better with the first bottle, and kept on improving. Now I am so greatly improved in health my friends often speak of it. I most heartily recommend it as I was."

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. Little menstrual disorders started at that time soon grow into fatal complications. That female trouble can be killing graveyards proves this. Wine of Cardui establishes a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Many women, young and old, owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. There is nothing like it to give women freedom from pain and to fit young women for every duty of life. $1.00 bottles at druggists.

Miss Della M. Streyer, Tully, Kan., "I have suffered untold pain at menstrual periods for a long time, was nervous, had no appetite, and lost interest in everything. In fact was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui, with Thedford's Black-Draught, when needed, and to-day I am entirely cured. I cannot express the thanks I feel for what you have done for me."

WINE OF CARDUI

A Faithful Dog.

Many hundred years ago there lived at Athens a dog whose faithfulness has caused him to be mentioned in history, and in the Grecian city his story is often repeated.

The dog guarded one of the heathen temples at Athens. One night a thief stole into this building and carried off some of the most valuable treasures. The dog vainly barked his loudest to frighten the thief and to rouse the keepers as the man went off with the jewels. But the faithful dog did not mean to lose sight of the rascal, and all through the night he followed him.

By daybreak the poor animal had become very weary, but still he kept the robber in sight. The latter tried to fool him, and as he came to a brook with the passersby he took it from them instead. Whenever the thief stopped to rest the dog remained near him, and took a report west through the country of the animal's strange behavior.

The keepers of the temple, hearing the story, went in search of the dog, and they found him still at the heels of the thief at a town called Cronyon. The robber was arrested, taken back to Athens and there punished. The judges were so pleased with the dog's sagacity and faithfulness that they ordered him to be fed every day for the rest of his life at the public expense.

Sure Enough Tale.

In one of the private schools here in town there is a small boy who is always cheerfully miles behind everybody else. He is not a dull boy, but learning does not appeal to him as being a thing especially to be desired. Recently the teacher told the class in composition that on the next day she would expect each of them to be able to write a short anecdote. She explained with great care the meaning of the word anecdote, and next day when she called the class up to write all but the laggard went at once to work.

"Why don't you write an anecdote, Rob?" asked the teacher.

"I forget what an anecdote is," said Rob, undistrubed.

"I explained to you yesterday, Rob, and you ought to remember," said the teacher, a bit out of patience. "An anecdote is a tale. Now write."

Rob took pen over his slate and, with much twisting of brow and writhing of lip ground out his task. When the slates were collected, his was at the very top of the heap. The teacher picked it up, and this is what she read:

"Yesterday we fed soup made from the anecdote of an ox."—Youth's Companion.

The Shoe and the Woman.

Hercupon I ventured to reason with the woman.

"Your conventional immunities," I argued, "are not compatible with the new responsibilities which you seek to assume. That is where the shoe pinches."

The woman gave me a withering look.

"Pinches!" she exclaimed most scornfully. "It's a mile too big! I could scarcely stand in it!"

Oh, what a futile thing mere logic seemed now!—Detroit Journal.

Young Heart—Then I will be yours.

THEY SLEEP HANGING UP.

Sloths and Bats Suspend Themselves by Their Hind Legs.

Sloth is the animal which lives entirely in trees, but is able to maintain its position during slumber without the least exercise of muscular force. This is the sloth, common in the forests of tropical America. Its long claws are so bent that they hook over the branches and allow the creature to hang upside down like an animal hammock. Curiously enough, the hammock appears to be a South American invention and is universally employed by all the Indian tribes of the Amazon. Perhaps

SAVED BY PALMISTRY.

Tattered Individual Proves His Case by Showing His Hands.

"Reasoning from antecedent probability," said the Justice to a prisoner with a soppy hat and a turned down mouth. "I would say that when this policeman accuses you of being a tramp he is speaking with a high regard for the truth."

"Knowing little about logic," the defendant replied, "I am unable to say whether I am guilty on that proof, but by palmistry I am innocent. My life line is good, my capacity for hard work is simply astonishing, and my confidence in my own ability is superb."

"Score one for palmistry. Now hold up your hands."

They went up.

"I can't tell whether you have worked by the looks of those hands," said the Justice. "But in the interest of the spread of knowledge I will discharge you and say to you that an article known as soap was invented some years ago."

"Never heard of it," said the prisoner cheerfully, "but I know all I want to about my guilt or innocence as I do about soap. You might try me by a jury of my peers."

"Your peers are too busy attending to their own affairs to come out to help the ends of justice. The dollar they'd get for jury service would make them die of heart disease."

"A doctor told me I'd never have that," the prisoner said.

"I'm not intensely interested in the state of your health," the Justice said coldly. "I don't know whether you're a tramp, and neither do you. I am inclined to the opinion that you are, but I guess no policeman will arrest you between here and the corner."

The prisoner made the trial trip successfully and was seen no more.—Chicago Journal.

Small Industries For Women—Women at the Polls—Barrie's Strange Theory—Poems in Silk—The Very Latest in Note Papers.

Miss Rosamond Rodkinson is assisting her father to give to the world the first complete translation of the Babylonian Talmud ever prepared. For the last five years she has been traveling to every part of the United States, bringing the attention of Jewish communities everywhere to this great work, and interesting her co-religionists as well as prominent churchmen of other denominations in the significance and value of its contents.

Dr. Michael L. Rodkinson, who came to America with his family from Vienna ten years ago, has been laboring at his translation for over 40 years, giving up practically his whole life to it. The original work of 63 large volumes has been reduced to 25 by condensation and a more compact system of printing. The material range of subjects dealt with, Dr. Rodkinson's task has been made doubly hard because he is not a good English scholar, and a great deal of the labor of turning this translation into literary English has fallen on his daughter, who is probably the only woman living who has a thorough knowledge of the Talmud.

A Clever Canary.

A lady who had lost a canary happened to be attracted by a loud twittering about in the cage in the front window of a house in New York. She rang the bell at the door of the house, and asked a few questions about it. She was told that it had been found in the back yard, and that as it was a very soft gingerbread and raised biscuits are provided on certain days of the week. Undoubtedly there are other suburban towns and more city neighborhoods where the service could be introduced to the mutual profit of supplier and consumer.—New York Evening Post.

Women at the Polls.

The fact that there was fighting on election day among the men of Denver is promptly seized upon by eastern papers as an argument against letting women vote. The Boston Herald says:

"We do not mean that disturbances would not have occurred in Colorado if her men only had been permitted to vote, but it is clear that the participancy of the women in political matters has undoubtedly produced that condition of Indian summer upon which the women's suffrage would follow."

The suggestion now we must make what the political conditions were in Colorado before women voted. One prominent Republican, in a public address delivered in Washington about two years ago, said: "I have seen the time when a political convention, without a disturbance and the drawing of weapons was rare. That time is past in Colorado, and it is due to the presence

"Then, in the following February, fell the awful blow which wrecked her hopes and nearly took her life. The north was exulting over Grant's great victory at Fort Donelson. Bonfires blazed and bells rang out the news of the people. Newsboys scampered everywhere and eager men devoured the latest word of news that could be read or heard. Correspondents at the front knew their harvest time and gathered every scrap of information. One of those scraps related to the finding of a young Confederate's body still in the attitude of prayer. After receiving his death wound he had, according to the correspondent, crawled to a bush, seized it with a death grip and bent himself up on his knees. He wore the uniform of a Missouri regiment. In his coat pocket were found three letters which the enterprising correspondent had copied. Flora Eldredge recognized them as the letters she had written to Elinesteeh along her journey from Missouri. As I have said, the shock nearly killed her. To speak more of her great grief would be only to inflict pain upon myself without adding to your interest in the story; for as

In Memoriam.

ELOISE CAMPBELL DIED DECEMBER 4th, 1900.

Now and then the waves of God's infinite sea come upon us and bear away on their receding bosom the form of some one we love. In tears we watch them borne away to where the veil of mystery checks our yearning wistful vision, and then though human eyes are dimmed, the eyes of faith behold the other shore, the home where angels dwell, our loved and lost. So vanished little Eloise We felt it was too soon, her baby lips had only learned to lisp those sacred words 'papa', 'mamma'. her eyes still drank the wonder of the things not yet made known. She grew tired of her baby toys and fell asleep, but where she is all things are known, even the reason why she must so soon be taken from our lives, and we to whom the mysteries of His ways are still unknown must grieve.

Although we know "He doeth all things well," for we must miss and mourn her baby prattle, must feel so more her chubby arms about our necks, must know, so bitterly know that

"Out of the day night
A joy has taken flight."

He knoweth best. Those angel arms may draw us closer to Him who stills the troubled soul and speaketh peace to aching hearts who whispers to the mother's grief, to the father's despair,

"Of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

He said that while the companies are being organized one should be formed in which policies are payable at marriage.

Tobacco Market.

Total sales in this market last week were 2,000 hhds., against 2,437 held on corresponding week of last year. Total receipts (last week) 1,825 against 2,000 hhds. for corresponding week last year. Rejections last week were 206 hhds., 14 per cent of the auction sales, against 21 per cent. the preceding week. Of the total sales 1,684 hhds. were Burley and 316 were dark tobacco.

Warehouses are selling up to their full limit this week. The offerings on Tuesday were 923 hhds., Wednesday 955, and on Thursday 946. Of these 2,478 hhds. were of 1900 crop, a bus showing that the new crop is practically monopolizing the breaks this week. The bidding has been slightly more animated this week than for several weeks. Brokers and independent factories have "gingered" the Continental occasionally and the whole market has appeared more animated, and possibly required a bid or two more to get the tobacco, though the market can hardly be said to be quotably higher. We give this week separate quotations for 1900 crop as shown below. It will be seen that prices rule about $1 lower for new crop than the old. On some of the better grades the difference is probably as much as $1 50 or $2 in favor of the old tobacco, but the new naturally has more sap and weight yet than the old.—Farmers' Home Journal.

A Village Blacksmith Saved His Little Son's Life.

Mr. H. H. Black, the well-known village blacksmith at Grahamsville, Sullivan Co., N. Y., says: "Our little son, five years old, has always been subject to croup, and we had have the attacks been teat we have feared many times teat he would die. We have had the doctor and used many medicines, but Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is now our sole reliance. It seems to cut short the tough mucus and by giving frequent doses when the croupy symptoms appear we have found that the dreaded croup is cured before it gets settled." There is no danger in giving this remedy for it contains no opium or other injurious drug and may be given with confidently to a babe as to an adult. For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

A Woman's Hour.

Please state to the court exactly what you did between 8 and 9 o'clock on Wednesday morning, said a lawyer to a delicate looking woman on the witness stand.

"Well," she said, after a moment's reflection, "I washed my two children and got them ready for school, and sewed a button on Johnny's coat, and mended a rent in Nellie's dress, then I dusted up my sitting-room and watered my house plants and cleaned over the morning paper. Then dosed my parlor and set things to right in it, and washed the lamp chimneys and combed my baby's hair and sewed a button on one of her little shoes, and then I swept out the front entry, and brushed and put away the children's Sunday clothes, and wrote a note to Johnny's teacher asking her to excuse him for not being at school on Friday. Then I fed my canary bird and gave the grocetyman an order, and swept off the back porch, and then I sat down and rested a few minutes before the clock struck 9. That's all.

Total Loss.

Persons who carry insurance have at times been interested in knowing just what "total loss" meant. The question is thus answered by a recent decision of the Court of Appeals: "It is not necessary that all parts and materials composing the building should be absolutely and physically destroyed, but the inquiry always is, does the building after the fire still exist, or has it become so broken and disintegrated that it cannot be designated as the structure which was insured. There may be a total loss even though some parts of the building remain standing after the fire."

From the Record.

Dick Lewis while out hunting day before yesterday, fired his gun at a bird and the barrel of the gun burst just where it was grasped by hand. Last Tuesday a woman, giving her name as Davis, and two children appeared on our streets begging. The woman went to several of our charitable citizens and told a pitiable story about losing her house and contents by fire in Henry County and succeeded in getting some money which she expended for whiskey We want to call the attention of our readers to the fact that this woman is a fake, of the worst kind. "About five years ago I was troubled with catarrh of the lower bowel," says Mr. T. C. Chisholm, 49 Dearborn Ave., Chicago, and although I consulted several eminent physicians who prescribed for me, I found their remedies failed to in any way relieve me, and the trouble became chronic. After suffering several months, I one day concluded to try Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and I beg to assure you that I was most agreeably surprised to find after taking two doses of the remedy that I was completely relieved of the disease that had cost me so much trouble and annoyance. I am thankful to say that I have not suffered from it since." For sale by Haydon & Robertson.

Not Used to It.

A day or two since, twenty men with twenty guns, a dozen bird dogs, and a tent sixty feet by 20, piles of camp equipage and empty jugs passed through Burgin enroute home to Louisville and Indiana, from Liberty, Kentucky, where they had spent ten days in fruitless effort to bag a few quail. They were all employes of the McCormick Self Binder Co., drummer and agents, and have for several years been taking an outing once a year. This was their first trip to Kentucky fields, and they were unanimous in saying it would be their last for them as they claimed something in the atmosphere that spoils their ammunition or aim for they couldn't hit a barn door on Kentucky soil. Court Day at Harrodsburg.

The cattleman "got a move" on him last Monday and the horse and mule buyers were not slow. There was business in the air in every direction. The arrival of "Old Crimp" had caused the ub quitous and intrepid lemon-ade vender to hunt warmer climes. The citizens had recovered from election surprises and were out for business. The "old soak" was looking out for an invitation to "take something;" but all the elections being over and things of the past, he had to go dry, as all the successful and defeated candidates alike were busily engaged in earnest endeavors to replenish depleted exchequers. The horse jockey was very largely in evidence and "jockey hill" was swarming with swapping sharps, willing to make a trade anyway, being generous enough to leave a victim his saddle and briddle (as they were not worth carrying home),

Taken all around it was ahead of the average December court day. The merchants, shopkeeps and Christmas toy men did a very satisfactory business and all seem to be pleased with the contents of their tills.—Democrat.

Shooting at Bardstown

On last Tuesday night Whit Hamilton and "Tourh" Harolin, both colored, engaged in a quarrel on Main Street over a trifling matter which ended in Hamilton being seriously wounded. The shooting took place near the home of Hamilton, where Hardin had concealed himself behind a large tree with a double barrel shotgun. Hamilton's legs were filled with shot and had not timely assistance arrived Hardin would have emptied the contents of the other barrel into the body of his victim.

While the wound is not considered fatal it is very painful and Hamilton will have to eat his meals standing for some time to come. His would-be slayer has not yet been captured.—Nelsonian Record.

A Great Swimmer.

Another feather in the cap of athletic womanhood has been gained by Lady Agnes Townshend, who has recently won distinction by plucking a swimming a distance of more than two miles in a difficult stretch of water round St. Michael's mount, in Mount's bay, Cornwall, the swim occupying but three or three minutes over the hour. The performance was a fine one, and, though she was followed in a boat by Lord St. Levan, her uncle, Lady Agnes required no assistance and on landing showed no great fatigue.

Queen Margherita Retired.

Word comes from Europe that the widowed Queen Margherita has just completed the distribution of her personal effects and has finally retired from the world. Her 300 superb costumes have been apportioned among her friends. Immediately after King Humbert's funeral she sent to the museum at Florence the exquisite embroideries which were so much admired at the World's fair, and her jewelry has been given to her relatives. The young queen, Helen, has received her royal diamond.

She established herself at Cape Town and soon managed to extract information from influencable English officers. A correspondent in Pretoria says:

Education For Women.

The United States are all right in respect to the education of women. Great Britain lags a little behind, but she is trying to catch up. France is giving her women the best possible opportunities in this direction. In the French institutions for what is called the higher education there were enrolled in 1880 1,000 women and in 1900 20,000. In the other European countries there is a disposition to open the universities to girls, but a lack of the necessary preparatory schools. Germany, which gives to men educational advantages which are not surpassed in the world, is not abreast with most civilized nations in educating women. The present Russian minister of education has recently stated that "a 12 years' course of uninterrupted study would make such demands on the mental and physical powers of girls that, after graduation, they would be unfitted for life's work." Only a hundred years behind the times, that's all. There is, however, some advance along this line even in Germany.

Japan has shown her characteristically progressive spirit in providing already a university education for new women. Even Honduras has established an American college for girls, and little Porto Rico sends up to know if Chicago university will not take some of her men and women too. It may be said in general terms that the modern tendency of all civilized nations is in the direction of educating women. Without education they must remain in an inferior position. With education there is no limit to their possible achievements.

Civility Is Good Capital.

Look at the army of salesmen and saleswomen in our stores. There is not, I believe, as capable or honest a corps of workers in the world. Yet a French or English shopgirl will sell twice as many goods in the same time, and the customer will come again and again to be served by the same woman. Why? Because she is civil and courteous.

There is something pitiful as well as ridiculous in the indifference, the hauteur, the actual rudeness of many of the intelligent young men and women, behind our counters. Yet civility is their capital. By selling gloves or tinware they earn their living, and the more civil they are the more they sell.

Most of my readers know a few salesmen who have remained in some of the old business houses until an honored old age and by their ability and courtesy have made for themselves hosts of friends. It is a pity that these foolish young people could not learn their business from them.—An American Mother in Ladies' Home Journal.

Praise For Clubwomen.

The Ohio State Federation met on Oct. 24, 25 and 26 in the old and historical city, Marietta. The meeting was admirably planned, and a fine and instructive programme was carried out. Marietta men attended the opening meetings and enjoyed them," writes a correspondent of the Toledo Blade. Judge Pollett, who is known all over the state, was one of these. He said:

"It is wonderful what you clubwomen are doing in the way of child education and development. As a member of the board of charities and correction I am in a position to see this. While abroad this summer I went with Miss Hill of the state board to visit a prison in Brussels. She was denied admittance. The women of Europe are not allowed to do reform work in such places. But let our clubwomen go on with their kindergartens and playgrounds, and after awhile there will be no need to visit prisons."

Women at Rochester University.

The University of Rochester opened to women this fall. Two years ago the trustees of the university agreed to admit women on condition that $100,000 to offset the cost of the experiment should be raised. Subsequently the sum required was reduced to $50,000. The morning of the last day of grace dawned, and the women pushing the cause of education at Rochester lacked $8,000 of the amount necessary to succeed. Then Susan B. Anthony arose heroically to the rescue. She subscribed $2,000, and the balance she collected in person just in time to save women from being debarred from the university for another year.

The lead pencil originated with the discovery of the graphite mines in England in 1564, during the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

In 1843 England conquered and annexed the Orange Free State and occupied it six years later.

The Lexington Investment Company does business on a life insurance basis by reversing the plan.

Live Insurance Companies pay large sums to the few of their members who die.

We pay a smaller sum to all of our members as their coupons die.

The Lexington Investment guarantees to pay to its members three dollars for every one received from them.

The Lexington Investment Co. is an improvement over all other plans of Investment Cos.

1. Because it pays more money.

2. Because after the third payment the member is eligible to receive a cash income which increases his payments in the meantime, decreasing until the certificate is killed.

3. Because it redeems its coupons in a regular consecutive order and has no so called numeral drawings or lottery features attached to it by which it is possible to favor the few at the expense of the many.

4. Because after three years, if the certificate is not killed, the holder may obtain a "paid up" certigcate and cease paying on same, his remaining coupons being redeemed thereafter in their regular order.

Our strength, like life insurance, lies in our membership; but unlike Life Insure our field of business is unlimited, as everybody is eligible to membership. No medical examination required.

Early Use of Pigeons.

Pigeons were employed in early Egyptian days, navigators taking them on their galleys and liberating them when they wished to send word home in order to announce their safe arrival to their friends or employers. The Romans utilized them in communicating with each other in warfare.
